Nicolás Agudelo

DeejayBio

His journey in electronic music began at the end of the nineties.

During that formative period of the rave scene in Bogotá, he became a regular of the hottest raves and afterparties, finding new sounds. Discovering the full spectrum of electronic music deeply touched his life and redefined his musical tastes.

His training as a DJ has been completely empirical, learning the art of mixing by manipulating different pieces of software and undertaking a journey that has led him to master digital mixing with Traktor, CDJ units and analog turntables.

He began to participate in the local scene as a DJ in 2008, performing in several venues of the underground circuit and receiving a nomination for the “best new DJ” category in the 2008 DJ Colombia awards.

Between 2011 and 2013 he hosted Decibelía -his own radio show- in the Canarias Radio Techno station in Spain, and released his first double DJ mix compilation for the Artist Choice series in the Spring Tube (Proton Music) label.

As an active part of the local nightlife scene, he crafts sessions where he mixes the latest releases of cutting-edge electronic music with surprising sounds, true classics and even music from unconventional genres.

Due to his increasing international recognition, Nicolás is currently part of Divine Bookings's roster, an international DJ agency with which he is focusing on his consolidation in the European market.

Sick Elektrik & Mr Pedros - Tin Pot Orchestra (Nicolas Agudelo Remix)

Quadraphonic Recordings [QDPO48] Release Date: Mar 29 2011 Buy at: www.beatport.com Sick Elektrik have really started to build a name for themselves with some strong releases on Nervous, Whartone and Quadraphonic. The Manchester duo have now teamed up with Mr Pedros and judging by this it's a successful combination which we're keen to hear more of. The team deliver a high octance slice of tech which starts out in a thunderous manner and 'just as you thought it was safe', at the breakdown it builds into an absolute beast. More twists and turns than a good day out at Alton Towers, this isn't for the faint hearted! To calm things down just a little, Nicolas Agudelo has been drafted in on remix duties. He masterfully keeps the elements of the original and turns them into a phat grooving slice of proggy heaven with some delicious key chords around the 4 minute mark. Sick Elektrik & Mr Pedros - catch them if you can!
